Executive Overview

Ethics and morality are related but distinct concepts. The term ethics stems from classical Greeks and refers to the discipline that examines the moral standards of an individual or society. Morality, on the other hand, is rooted from Latin and refers to a code of conduct that applies to all who can understand it and govern our behavior by it. Ethics is often used synonymously with morality, but scholars make a distinction between the two.

Ethics involves systematizing, defending, and recommending concepts of right and wrong behavior. It is a mixture of science and philosophy, involving order and critical thinking. Morality can be used either descriptively or normatively. Descriptive sense refers to a certain code of conduct put forward by a society or a group, while normative sense refers to a code of conduct that applies to all who can understand it.

Moral standards involve the rules people have about the kinds of actions they believe are morally right and wrong, as well as the values they place on the kinds of objects they believe are morally good and morally bad. Non-moral standards, on the other hand, refer to rules that are unrelated to moral ethical considerations. There are criteria for a thing or a concept to be considered a moral standard. It must involve serious wrongs or significant benefits, ought to be preferred to other values, not established by authority or figures, have the trait of universalizability, be based on partial considerations, and be associated with special emotions or vocabulary.

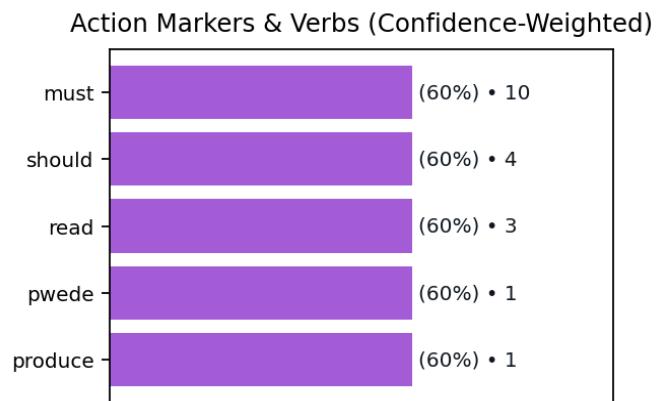

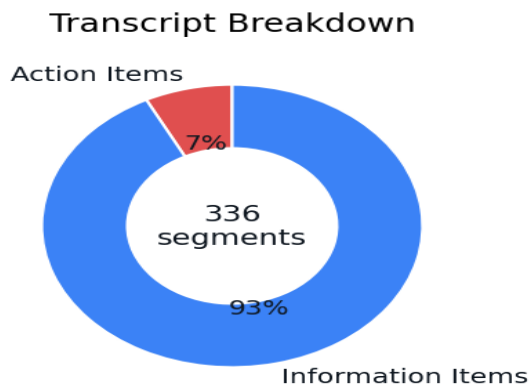

Topics Discussed

The Greek word or the meaning of ethos is likewise the meaning of morality. However, the etymological meaning of morality is it is rooted from Latin, moralis, which also means manner. And the definition of it, ethics is, ethic does involve systematizing, defending, and recommending concepts of right and wrong behavior, according to Fieser for the year 2020. So in this definition, we can comprehend that ethics is a mixture of science and philosophy. Why science? because it involves systematizing. When you say systematizing, it involves order or the system in which ethics or science in which science has to deal with You know, in science there is formulation of hypothesis, the experimentation, conclusion, stage. Same with ethics. every theories or concepts deals with such methods or order for it to come up with better preference or better belief. It's also about defending. When we say defending, it requires critical thinking, which is a requisite also of the subject philosophy. So ethics is under the branch of philosophy and science. Since we have encountered the term morality, you'll ask, is ethics same with morality? Based from what you learn already, And in the module, is ethics same with morality? Miss Charlene Rodriguez. How about Abby Clare? in some ways po ma'am they are related to each other because ethics and morality is all about right and wrong contact okay about the other what are your sentiments yes ang ethics po ma'am is a field po siya which yung parang sa science po. While ethics is learned academically. Thank you, ma'am. So, ethics and morality is different from each other? Yes, madam. Okay. How about you, Arnel? Do you have same answer? Yes, madam. So, who says that ethics and morality are the same? Bisa mga nag-answer kanina, they all said that ethics and morality differs. Anyone from you that believe that ethics and morality are the same? Voila. So to answer the question, ethics is different with morality. However, it is often used synonymously, which is pwede naman. May pagkakapareho naman yung dalawa. However, with the scholars that we have, they made a distinction between the two. So here is a graph where you can see the difference of the two. Ethics, the term ethics stems for classical Greeks. In terms of their etymological meaning, they differ because morality rooted from Latin. Another distinction is that ethics refers to the discipline that examines the moral standards of an individual or society, while on the other hand, morality can be used either descriptively or normatively. Ang pagkakapareho nila is that both of them is concerned with rules. This mentioned here that morality can be used either descriptively or normatively. Do you have any idea of what descriptive or normative sense is when it refers to morality? Nasa module ito. Okay, if none, I will discuss it. When we say descriptive sense, it refers to a certain codes of conduct put forward by a society or a group, meaning to say it is only true to some group while it can vary with another group. For example, for us Filipinos, it is ethical or you can say that a child is ethical or with conduct when he makes mano or you may be blessed to the elderly. While in the other nation, they don't recognize that practice of making mano to the elderly. Another example is for other religion, it is wrong for them to eat meat, I mean pork, especially dinuguan. while for other religion like Christian, it is okay for us to it is okay for us to it sorry, it is okay for us to it dinuguan. Yun yung pagkakaiba ng yun ang meaning ng descriptive sense. It is only true to some or to some people, some group of people while it cannot be true to When we say normative sense it refers to a code of conduct that applies to all who can understand it and can govern our behavior by it The classic example of this is the golden rule. Don't do to others what you don't want to do unto you. For example, you don't want to kill. because you don't want others to kill you as well. Same with, you should not cheat to your loved one if you don't want your loved one to cheat to you. To put it in a easier or mas madaling maaalala, pag sinabi natin descriptive sense, it answers the question, what do people think is right? So, when we say what do people think is right, It is only true to some and it has the possibility for others not to believe on your belief. Meaning it is subjective. While in the normative, the answer should be how should people act? So dun sa example natin kanina na golden rule, you should not kill because you are afraid for others to kill you as well. So here, therefore, ethics is the study of morality. Someone already mentioned this kanina. When it comes sa scope naman, mas malaki ang scope ng ethics because morality is only one of the subject matter under the subject ethics. But you can use this synonymously when you are referring to rules. The first question in your module asks, should there be a study of morality? If you're going to answer that, here are some of the broad answers that you can use. It is important for it to protect social beings by regulating behavior. That's why we have laws and regulations. Another thing is that rules or ethics or morality help to guarantee each person certain rights and freedom. The law also recognizes these rights under Article 3, Section 1. And the third one, rules produce a sense. of justice among social beings. And lastly, rules are essential for a healthy economic system. If you have a question, you can butt in at any time. For the second topic, we have the... Moral versus non-moral standards. Blessie, based from what you read in the module one, how can you differentiate moral standards from non-moral standards? Okay, Brian Bragaes. How about Darwin Cruzana? By the way, treat this synchronous class of ours as a recap or review of what you've read from the module. Kung meron akong hindi matatopic or makakokover, today you can share it kung sa tingin nyo important siya. But what I've included in our presentation for today are the special points or the important points to remember. from module. Faith Liabres. Hello, good afternoon. Hello, good afternoon. Please, from what you read in our module, how can you differentiate moral standards from non-moral standards? Hindi naman. Okay naman ang audio mo. Okay are you still there I think she has an internet connection problem. I'll just call you later, Faith. Ang ko po ma'am. Yes, Ms. Giselle. Yung moral po na standards, yung dun po yung papasok yung mga moral, yung mga actions or like deeds na alam natin sa tingin natin ay tama at mali. Tapos yung sa non-moral standards po is yung mga rules po na nagre-refer sa ibang bagay na wala naman pong kinalaman sa ethics. Anibawa po parang yung sa etiquette, social etiquette po sa mga social gatherings or like rules po sa games. Yes, that's correct. Thank you. So, when we say moral standards, this involves the rules people have about the kinds of actions they believe are morally right and wrong, as well as the values they place on the kinds of objects they believe are morally good and morally bad. So, tama yung sinabi ni Giselle na when you say moral standards, it involves morality or with ethics. It involves what is the, it answers the questions or the dilemma. Is the thing I'm doing good? Is the thing I'm doing bad? Or is the thing I'm doing evil? Or does it violate law? Does it violate rules? So anything that falls under that question is or can be considered under moral standards. Ang issues such as rape, abortion, divorce, same-sex marriage, yung issues sa Afghanistan recently, all of those are under moral standards. Pag sinabi naman natin yung non-moral standards, they refer to rules that are unrelated to moral ethical considerations. Either these standards are not necessarily linked to morality or by nature lack ethical sense. So tama yung sinabi ni Giselle na it has nothing to do with ethics or ang sinabi nito are not necessarily linked to morality or by nature lack ethical sense. So yun sa yesterday kung sino mananood ng Pacquiao fight, the question of whether Pacquiao will win or not, that is an example of non-moral standards. Another example is that regarding fashion etiquette, if stripes goes along with polka dots or if black and white, are a good combination or rules on basketball, on games or any other games. Violation of rules in mobile legends or COD. Those are under non-moral standards because they are not necessarily linked with morality. Kung mataluman si Pacquiao, it has nothing to do with ethical issues. It will only fall on their health issues. especially sa mga nasaktan or either Pacquiao or Ugas regarding their health. But that will fall under non-moral standards. There are criteria for a thing or a concept to be considered a moral standard. One of it is it must involve serious wrongs or significant benefits. When we say serious wrongs, that are those that violate the rules, the law, the belief, or customs, traditions of a group of persons. So dun sa ay tinigay ko kanina regarding sa descriptive sense of morality, when particular religion, when you're part of a particular religion and you ate, dinuguan or attend fiesta, you are violating the divine law of your religion. For example, another example, if you are a Christian and you are practicing polygamous relationship, meaning to say you have two or more spouses, then you are violating the law of God or the Bible. However, for Muslims, if you are practicing polygamous, it is okay for their belief and for their law, religion. Another criteria is that it must ought to be preferred to other values. Another, it must not establish by authority or figures. It must have the trait of universalizability. It must be based on partial considerations It must be associated with special emotions or vocabulary Kahit anong dito, if an action falls any of these criteria, it can belong to the moral standards. Nonetheless, anything that is opposite to this criteria belongs to or under the category of non-moral standards. So if it does not involve serious wrongs or significant benefit, it is non-moral standard. So this example kanina, if for example you go AFK while playing Mobile Legends, it will only fall to non-moral standards. If it does not ought to be preferred to other values, it is non-moral standards. If it is established by authority or figures, it must fall under non-moral standards. If it does not have... the trait of universalizability. However, this criteria is not true to all. Kasi dun sa sinabi ko kanina, regarding the belief of a certain religion lang, therefore, it cannot be, if it is only true to that religion, it will not fall under this criteria. Kasi when you say universal accessibility, it must be true to all. So yung universal good lang naman or universal law is the rule. And anything that is not based on impartial consideration will belong to non-moral standards. Also, anything that is not associated with special emotions and vocabulary will also fall under non-moral standards. Yung mga example niya yung fashion etiquette, cosmetic etiquette, those will all fall under non-moral standards. So now let's distinguish again dilemma from moral dilemma. Will anyone volunteer to distinguish the two terms? Aside dun sa mga nag-recite na Vincent Andre Zoe Rodriguez

Zoe Rodriguez Zoe Rodriguez Zoe Rodriguez Yes po, ma'am. For me, ma'am, yung dilemma is a situation kung saan ang person has to choose between things that are... all bad or unsatisfactory. While yung moral dilemma naman, ito yung mga situation in which yung mga decision maker must consider two or more moral values. Yung mga ganun po. Okay, thank you. How about Nance Dizelle Esquillon? Hello, Madam. Diraster nun po. In my opinion po, yung dilemma po needs to choose between two options na hindi naman po ganun kabigat yung choices. While the moral dilemma po, kailangan ng i-priority yung isang option kasi mas kailangan po yun compare sa isang option. Yun lang po. Thank you. Okay, thank you. Maria, Christine, Rico. Sa isang dilemma po, one must choose between two equally bad or unacceptable choices. Samantalang sa moral dilemma naman po, yung decision po, the one making the decision po, must choose between two moral values. and kailangan niyang i-prioritize yung isa more than the other. Thank you. Christian Bapilar? Alessandro Loxin? Para sa akin po, dilema, sabi nga nung iba, you are required to choose between two things and if you choose one, and not being able to get one. It will leave you on unsatisfied feeling. While moral dilemma, you are going to prioritize one that is more impactful in terms of moral standards. Okay, thank you. Denver Valhubilia. Ezekiel Henry. Jamil Mencias Japheth Lagko. Kate Nicole Galpes. Yes, Puma. Good afternoon. How can you differentiate dilemma from moral dilemma? How can you differentiate dilemma from a moral dilemma? Thank you. Pasko mo na madame. Okay, sig. Ivy Bernadette Sarita. Good afternoon po ma'am. Good afternoon. So, one was a dilemma po at a situation in which you must choose between two equally bad options. it is a complex or challenging circumstance. And on the other hand po, when we say moral dilemma, it is a situation where you are presented with two or more actions, all of which you have the ability to perform. Thank you. So all of your answers are correct and has points. The difference of a dilemma from moral dilemma lies with the weight of its options. When we say dilemma, it refers to a situation in which a tough choice has to be made between two or more options, especially more or less equally undesirable ones. While in moral dilemma, it has its term moral. When they say moral, it can be used synonymous with ethics. So it is also an ethical dilemmas. They are the situations in which a difficult choice has to be made between two cores of action, either of which entails transgressing moral principle. So ang dilemma is a general concept. While when we say moral dilemma, it must deal with what is right and what is wrong. Example of a dilemma, A simple dilemma is whether what food I will eat for lunch. Will it be rice and fish or rice and meat? That is an example of a simple dilemma. It does not concern ethics. When we say moral dilemma, it will concern ethics. So you name my questions na whether abortion is good or bad. or can divorce be legal or not, whether the victim of rape is to be blamed or not, whether people of Afghanistan should stay there or evacuate to other countries, whether Duterte is performing his role as president ethically or unethically, whether or not the church should give its comment when making a bill or passing a bill. Those are examples of moral dilemma. Sino yung nagpas kanina? Ako po, ma'am. Okay, can you give an example na lang of a dilemma? When we say dilemma, it should not concern ethical issues or those are dilemmas that are only light and are encountered by us every day. Ano po ma'am? Simple dilemma po. Siguro po ma'am pag kailangan mong mamili kung mag-i-stop ka. or magpapatuloy kang mag-enroll this school year po, ma'am. Okay, that could be an example of dilemma. How about moral dilemma? Moral dilemma. Ano po, ma'am? Yung About po dun sa Ano pag Pagpaparusa po Sa mga Sa mga Drag addict na Nauhuli po ma'am It either ano po I like it It just like Pag Pag Pag Pag Pag... Pag... Okay na yan. Tama na yung sinabi mo. Whether the government should punish the drug addicts or let them do whatever they want. Okay, so there are also examples or situations that might seem a simple dilemma, but it's actually a moral dilemma. For example, you accidentally broke your mother's vase. the question of whether to tell your mother that you're the one who broke the vase or keep it a secret is a moral dilemma. It might seem simple since it happens daily or it happens to all of us. We are all caught on that situation kahit hindi base or kung may nasira tayong appliances or gagamitan sa bahay whether to confess sa parents natin yung nagawa natin or not. That is an example of moral dilemma. Hindi lang yung Pura's, baka naisip nyo baka puras rape, abortion, same-sex marriage, extrajudicial killings, the euthanasia. Baka ganun lang ang mga nasaisip nyo moral dilemma. Any dilemma that is concerned with what is right or what is wrong, depending on its weight or when you think of that situation, if that situation involves violating any rules, even some household rules that concerned with your values or with your belief that you think is right. It's a simple dilemma but it's actually a moral dilemma. Yung mga sa dilemma, yung mga examples man is kung ano yung pipiliin mong gadget when you are attending synchronous class, whether phone or laptop, that is a dilemma. whether you should jaywalk or not jaywalk on the street that is an example of dilemma because it does not concern ethical problems or ethical conflicts and I guess nyo na yung difference between in a dilemma and moral dilemma. So under the category of dilemma, it has personal dilemmas. They are those experienced and resolved on the personal level. Example of this is whether to take a bath or not take a bath. It will only concern you. Whether to confess to your crush or keep it a secret. That is a personal dilemma. When we say organizational dilemma, it referred to ethical cases encountered and resolved by social organizations. We need to say it involves two or more person. The consequences of one option or two options that you have will affect the life or lives of a group of persons. And lastly, the structural dilemmas. It refers to cases involving network of institutions and operative theoretical paradigms. So, but this is the one that bigger companies, religion, or national concerns, even international concerns. Do you have any question regarding it? Kasi kung mapapansin nyo, yun lang naman yung essential points ng Module 1. the definition of ethics, the distinction of ethics and morality, the moral and non-moral standards, and lastly, the dilemma and... and Moral Dilemma. We have a question regarding the Module 1. Wala naman po, Ma. Ma, may upload niyo po ba yung PowerPoint presentation? Yes po. I'll upload the PowerPoint presentation. Okay, ma'am. Thank you, pa. If you can, if you notice, dun sa module 1, stated yung first learning output. It was by group. I'll also post sa Google Classroom yung groupings. Pagsabihin ko na lang with the PPTs So ang instruction doon are So here's the instruction. Please accomplish this with your assigned group. You can use platforms such as Gmeet or Facebook Messenger to facilitate your discussion. member should submit the same group answer paper individually, please follow this format. So as a paper, look for a news article from a newspaper, online or TV radio, broadcast that tackles an ethical issue. Brainstorm with your group mates and compose an answer for the following questions. Questions are, what is the case about? What makes it a matter of ethics? Is it considered a moral dilemma? What is your ethical analysis of the case? Please answer this item in exactly one paragraph with at least 15 sentences. So, pakiananswer na lang concisely and briefly kasi I will check estimated 90 papers. So, the concise, pakiconsize na lang and pakibrieth na mga answers. So, yung mga recent issues now, yung sa Afghanistan, yung sa NAS daily, kay Wang Od regarding culture. you can relate that to ethics, other news. You can just search in the internet or discuss among your groupings. Isan ko na lang din later this evening yung grouping so you can start brainstorming. And the deadline will be next week pa naman. Is a week enough for you to answer that? Yes po, ma'am. Okay. 15. We can do our discussion of the second module. Is it okay with your class? Yes, ma'am. Yes, ma'am. So, if you have questions, you can see it now. Hi, hello, I'm good afternoon. I'm Daniel Charpop. I'm Black Sea. Magdataan lang po ako kung yung activity po dun sa kada module, isasagutan po ba yun? Hindi naman na. Yung learning output lang. And I will post the separate classwork for that. So, yun lang yung gagawin niya. You can also answer that to assess yourself, but it's not necessary to submit naman na. Sobrang daming questions nun. Thank you, ma'am. You're welcome. Hello po. Yeah. Adeline Joy po from 1A. Ay, from 2A. Dito po sa, ano, sa essay paper po. Document file lang po ba? Ano po yan? Document file lang po ang kailangan. You can submit it in PDF. Kasi when you use phone, sometimes nag-iiba yung format when I read it sa laptop or sa phone ko. So, you can use PDF lang para fix lang yung format. Saka yung ano po, yung ano, wala pa pa pong mga fan style or ganun po na restrictions. Format? Are you referring to format ba? Opo, ma'am. Okay, the usual lang, size 12, areal. ang 1 inch on all sides margin and short lang short band paper size short band paper maximum of 10 sentences lang. Huwag nang pa mag-exceed na sa 15 sentences. Noted po, ma'am. Thank you po. Thank you. Clarify ko lang po, ma'am. Okay, sige, Michael, go ahead. Clarify ko lang po, ma'am. Kung yung isa na lang po yung gagawin ng group po, tapos lahat po kayo magkasabit nung the same output po. Isa lang na output for the group. Same output will be posted individually. So, you'll just indicate, andito naman na yung format sa instruction. Kung ano yung file name, GM1, full name, course, and block. And you say GM, group member 1, group member 2, group member 3. Yung groupings, I will just Send that later. How about you, Abby? Same question for all of it. Same output lang per group ang i-upload niya individually. Any more? Okay. If not, can I request everyone to please turn on your camera and just take a screenshot. In the count of three, smile, one, two, three.
